

Meet the Women Behind Your Women’s History Month Event

Say hello to the inspiring minds behind our Women’s History & Culture events!

DeAnna Diverse Women in Cinema Class

DeAnna is a multi-disciplined artist who founded the Forward Progress Arts & Entertainment Center in 2013.

Deanna is pursuing her fine arts interest in painting, hosting events, and working in the community as a Directing Instructor at the Eastside Content Creators Program. She uses her gifts of encouragement and compassion to convey her message of “keep moving forward” to those she encounters.

Jennifer Frida Kahlo Headband Making Class

Jennifer is a professional artist with 20 years of experience.

In 2019, Jen started her passion project to give back to the community. For every kit you purchase, a portion of the proceeds gets donated to homeless youth and foster families. Through her art classes, she aims to give back and inspire change through creativity.

Jessica Women in Cacao Chocolate Tasting

Dr. Jessica Henderson combines her background in neuroscience and group leadership to curate and host fun and memorable events.

She believes that experiencing the unique flavors of ethically-made chocolate while celebrating the women behind them can lead to a deeper appreciation of our connections with each other. You'll not only delight in a sweet treat but learn how you helped make a difference.

Savvy

Women’s History Trivia, Jeopardy & Mini Games

Savvy is a game designer based in Princeton, NJ.

She is passionate about women's representation in the gaming industry and is beyond thrilled to be on the Confetti internal team as their Head of Games. She and her team are behind the content for all of Confetti's games, including Virtual Escape Quest, Coworker Feud, Trivia, and more. She is so excited to continue bringing companies fun, engaging ways to learn and connect through the power of gamification.

Exploring Women in Art Maria

Maria has been employed continuously for the last 20 years as a museum educator and consultant.

Her work has been seen in Little Kid Big City and she was recently involved at the Metropolitan Museum of Art for their Lunar New Year Festival. She breathes art, makes art, and her greatest joy is sharing art with others, for art is too beautiful not to share.

Women of Black Broadway Briana

Briana is a Washington-based historian specializing in African-American research.

Her educational community history tours have been featured on television networks such as ABC, NBC, and CBS. For her, highlighting Black culture is about preserving histories of triumph, innovation, and impact so the generations to come can create a better future.

Women Who Changed the World Samantha

Samantha is an actor, voice actor, and host in Los Angeles.

Speaking about Women's rights, education, and mental health are things she holds near and dear, and this allows her a platform to speak freely. She was inspired to create Women Who Changed The World because EVERYONE needs to know about these amazing unsung heroines.

Celebrate Women’s History Month with Confetti!

Inspire your team with experiences that empower and uplift women from around the world — all created by the incredible women above. Book yours today!

Get Started